LOSS IS $192,000,000

Operation by Government in 1919 Brought Immense Deficit.

Operation of the railroads for the first three months of 1919 produced a deficit of $192,000,000, according to an announcement yesterday by Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads.

The results for the calendar year 1918 show that December 31, 1918, the deficit incurred by the Railroad Administration for that year amounted to $226,000,000.

Mr. Hines ascribes the bad showing of the first quarter of 1919 to the fact that business has fallen off and that expenses could not be correspondingly readjusted, so that the loss arises largely in connection with the period of readjustment through which the country is going.
